

This is My Library

The Bloomfield Township Public Library

I can enter the library through the automatic sliding glass doors.

My library has rules to help keep myself, others, and the library materials safe.

I need to use my quiet, inside voice when I talk so I don't disturb others.

I will not talk on the phone, play loud music or videos while I am visiting the library.

I will be kind to others and be gentle to the books, toys, and furniture.

I will use walking feet and keep my hands to myself when visiting the library.

This is the entrance to the Youth Room.

I can ask one of the librarians at the Youth Services Desk if I need help with anything.

I can look for books in the Youth Room.

I can also look for audiobooks, DVDs, CDs, and media kits in the Youth Room.

I can look for books, speech card sets, books in Braille, adaptive toys, signed story kits, story boxes, and discovery skills kits in the Accessibility Support Collection.

I can look for books and other media on my library's catalog computer. If I need help, I can ask a librarian.

Things I can do in the Youth Room

Read

Things I can do in the Youth Room

Play with trains, puzzles, the toy kitchen, and blocks

Things I can do in the Youth Room

Play games on the iPads

I can go to the story room for a story time with my friends.

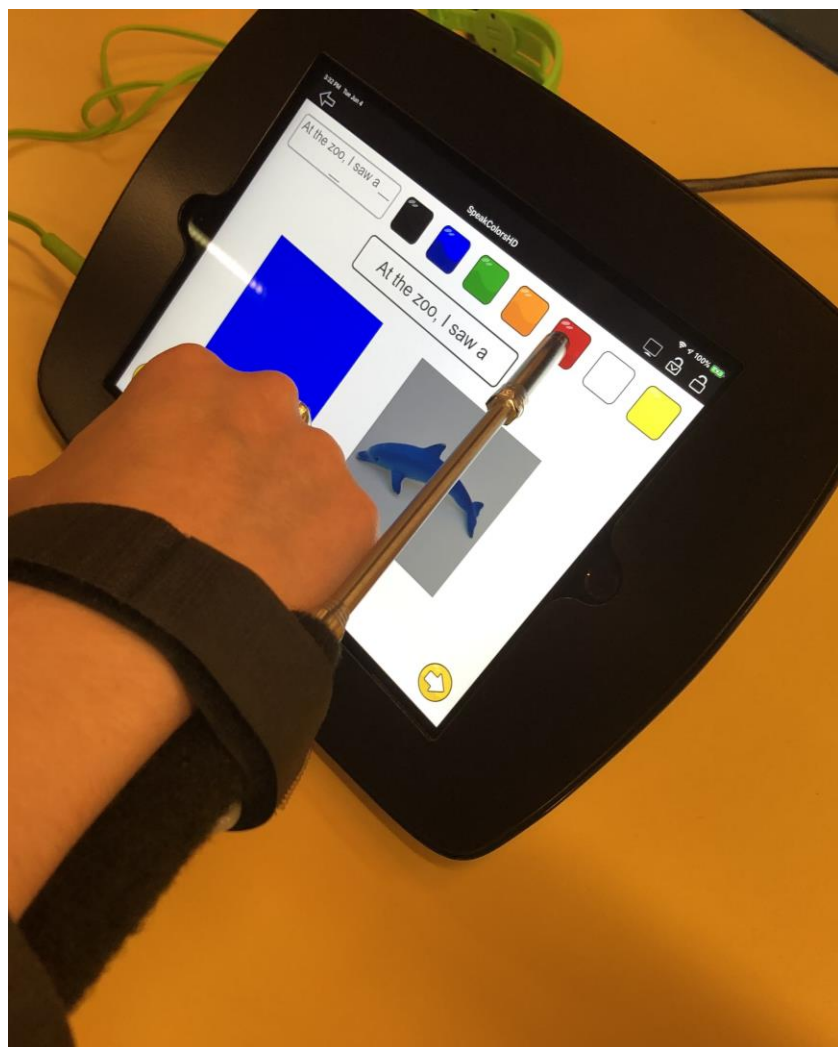

I can go play outside on the Youth Terrace.

I can use the computers.

I can also use assistive technology to help me use an iPad and computer at the Inclusive Technology Station.

If I need to use the restroom on my visit to the library, I can use the family restroom in the Youth Room or the restrooms located in the Commons across from the Youth Room.

If I need to get a drink of water, I can use the drinking fountains outside of the Story Room or Commons restrooms

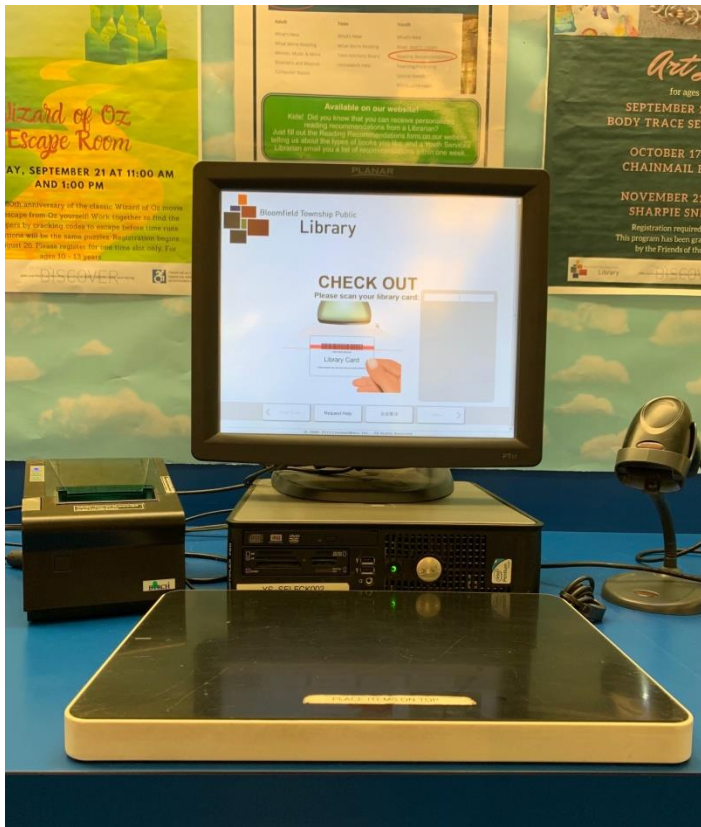

If I am sensitive to the sounds in the library, I can borrow sound cancelling headphones at the Youth Desk.

I can use my library card to check out materials before I leave the library. There are rules about getting and using a library card. A librarian can provide me with more information about getting and using my library card.

I can check out, using the self-check machine in the Youth Room by myself or with library staff at the Circulation Desk across from the Youth Room.

The next time I visit, I can return my materials in the return next to the Welcome Desk or the drive up return outside.

I love visiting the Bloomfield Township Public Library.
